(2/2)Detailed Report
Prevent Is Better Than Cure

Without any disease and sound sleep a man can show his fine performance. So we should always keep our body and mind fresh and try to distance from disease. Generally some diseases are curable and some like HIV/AIDS which incurable we should take active steps on it. This type of disease starts from sex. So safe sex is purely needed and on this behalf every human nature should have knowledge on safe sex and use of condom.

From survey its known that Nepali women trafficked to India and forced in to the sex trade has found that nearly 40% of them were HIV positive by the time they were repatriated, US researchers said on Tuesday. Some as young as seven, most of whom were lured or forced in to prostitution in cities such as Mumbai, Pune, Delhi and Kolkata. The findings published in the Journal of the American Medical Association come from a study of 287 women who found their way home after years of sex slavery in India's brothels and underscore the challenge facing public health authorities to contain India's HIV epidemic. "The high rate of HIV we have documented support concerns that sex trafficking may be a significant factor in maintaining the HIV epidemic in India and in the expansion of this epidemic to lower prevalence neighbors," said Jay Silverman, Associate Professor of Society, Human Development, and Health at Harvard School of Public Health. India has 2.5 million people living with HIV/AIDS, more than any other country except South Africa and Nigeria and is a major hub for sex workers from Nepal and Bangladesh. Another recent study found that the number of infected sex workers in Nepal increased 24 fold in the decade from 1991 to 2002. World bank officials have warned that the cross border sex trade presents a potential public health threat to Nepal. *40% Nepali women trafficked to India were HIV positive by the time they were repatriated. *24% increase in the number of infected sex workers in Nepal between 1992 to 2002.

Purpose Of Camp

To give awareness for the society. Every alive thing has sex, but it happens in interval of period to create another generation. In the case of human society it uses for amusement and it have no time and no season. To keep in our mind ,we try to give knowledge for the society on safe sex ,we arrange a camp on awareness on HIV/AIDS and request for using condom on the period of sex. On dated 22nd February 2004 organization arrange this camp in Siddarth Enclave Sarai Kalekhan in Delhi. On children this is a tragedy with AIDS like as *5.7 million cases of AIDS in India.*By 2010 the country shall have over 20 million HIV positive people.*2.2 million children are infected by AIDS.*Over 35% of AIDS cases are below 25 years of age.*50% of all new infections are reported between 15 to 29 years olds.* 85% of infections in India are transmitted through unprotected sexual intercourse. Only 59% of adolescents in the country are familiar with condoms. Only 47% of sexual active youngsters use condoms consistently.*Some 40% of the HIV positive people in UP alone are below the age of 25 years,

GOVERNMENT TURNED

After trying out every other medium to reach out to the young generation, the Govt. has now turned to the interest to create awareness on AIDS. That's not all. Beginning August 21, millions will also get an SMS- "Do you know your HIV status?" or "Have you got tested for HIV?". These are among the many AIDS awareness SMSes being sent out by the National AIDS Control Organization (NACO) to millions as part of a nationwide campaign to induce more people to get tested for HIV/AIDS.

NACO's media campaign so far focused on more conventional media such as the television, print ads, posters and street plays. Now with 1/3rd of the total HIV infections occurring in young people, the multimedia campaign has been made more youth-oriented, with NACO sending out its messages through the internet, cable and satellite services, SMSes and plays at college and university campuses.

"Only 13% HIV positive people in India know they are infected and despite free testing, only 4.2 million people have got tested last year. This multimedia campaign is designed to help us more than double the number of people seeking counseling and testing to 10 million by the end of the financial year," says an official with the NACO.

UNAIDS backed data shows there are 2.47 million people living with HIV/AIDS in India. But with only one in seven of those infected knowing that they are HIV positive, there are chances of them unknowingly infecting their parents or failing to seek free HIV counseling, testing and treatment being offered under the national programme.

Not knowing their positive status is a major reason why only 82,000 people have registered to get free anti-retroviral treatment used to treat AIDS under the government programme. Under the third phase of the Rs. 11,585 crore National Aids Control Programme (NACP-3) launched two months ago, NACO plans to offer counseling and testing services to 42 million people by 2012.

*UNAIDS-backed data shows there are 2.47 million people living with HIV/AIDS in India.

*Only one in seven of those infected know that they are HIV-positive.

*One –third of the total HIV infections occur in young people.

*NACO's multimedia campaign will now been made more oriented.

*From August 21, millions will also get an SMS -"Do you know your HIV status?" or "Have you got tested for HIV?"

*NACO's multimedia campaign is expected to double the number of people seeking counseling and testing.

CALL FOR CHEAP GENERIC DRUGS

UNAIDS on urged countries, including India, to opt for compulsory licensing under the Trips agreement to ensure people in need have access to cheap generic second generation drugs to treat HIV/AIDS. Compulsory Licensing allows countries to manufacture or import cheaper generic (copycat) versions of patented life-saving drugs in a medical emergency.

India is the world's biggest manufacturer of cheap unpatented drugs in the world. "Govt. can not say they don't have money for the more expensive second generation drugs and abandon people under free treatment under national programmes. Governments have the responsibility to ensure care and if needed, go for compulsory licensing to import manufacture patented drugs. Other countries should follow the Thailand example," says J.V.R. Prasada Rao, Dorector, Regional Support Team, UNAIDS. India provides free first-generation drugs to 82,000 people living with HIV/AIDS. "India is one of the world's largest producers of second-generation anti-retroviral used to treat HIV/AIDS and yet it does not provide it under its national programme,"said Prasada Rao, who was a secretary in the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare. India has the largest number of people living with HIV/AIDS in the Asia Pacific region, of the 5.4 million people living with HIV/AIDS in the region, roughly half-2.47 million-live in India.

Yet India accounts for about a third of the people getting AIDS medicines under the government programme- India accounts for 82,000 of the 2, 35,000 people who get AIDS drugs under public health programmes in the region. "Countries in the region would support Thailand that defied big Parma to save lives. I have been HIV positive for 16 years, and if it wasn't for medicines, I would have died years ago," said Sheeba, regional coordinator, Asia Pacific Network of Positive People.
